Labor and the Laws of Political Economy

It is to be regretted that the principles of political economy are not more generally and thoroughly understood by all classes of people. If they were, we should be saved much foolish and hurtful legislation on the one hand, and much ill-advised and abortive action on the part of the laboring classes, so called, on the other.

The "eight-hour movement" is a case in point. Without much thought or investigation, but mainly in obedience to a clamor which threatened to be turned to political ends, several of the States have passed laws recently making eight hours a legal day's work in the absence of express stipulations to the contrary.

Now the question whether wages can be raised twenty-five per cent. is not at all one of legislation, but entirely one of political economy. It cannot be reached by making eight hours or six hours, or any other number of hours, a day's work.

The suit of clothes which can now be manufactured for twenty dollars, would then cost twenty-five. The house which it now costs four thousand dollars to build, would then cost five thousand.

If our laboring men, instead of listening to the appeals of demagogues, and the noisy eloquence of those who are wiser than men who can give a reason, would investigate this subject, and study the laws of political economy, they would get juster views of the question of labor.

Brunettes for Americans. On the morning of the 28th of March Messrs. Spiers & Pond, the contractors, despatched sixty pretty English girls to Paris to serve in the saloons; thirty were blondes, and were for the English department; the remaining thirty were brunettes, and were for the American department.—North British Mail.

nettes and the British the blondes? What good cause is there for supposing that the former are preferred on this side of the water? Because we have Indians and negroes among us, is no good reason why we prefer the Italian to the same cast of features.

The Resources and Future of Russian America

Since yesterday morning the United States has been increased by the addition of a territory nine times as large as the State of New York. This enormous purchase has been made for a sum so trifling, that the bitterest opponents of the acquisition of Russian America agree that, if the province is worth anything, it is worth the required sum.

We notice that those of our contemporaries who have decried the ratification of the treaty, have quoted the fact that the present condition of the country and its inhabitants is eminently uncivilized and worthless, as a proof that under American administration the land would not be self-sustaining.

Children Robbed of Education

The census of children in this city, which we published yesterday, furnishes food for reflection in many respects. There is cause for congratulation that so large a number—100,000 at least—are enjoying the advantages of our admirable public and private schools.

It is a question which deserves careful consideration, whether society is doing its duty by these neglected children. Is it right that, through the negligence or wilful restraint of vicious and degraded parents, these as yet innocent children should be shut out from all the blessings of education?

This is sound doctrine, and we trust ere long to see it enacted into law. The highest duty of society towards children is to see that they are educated. If parents themselves will attend to the matter, it is better that they should do so, but their failure ought not to be permitted to entail upon the child an irreparable loss.

The Shrieks of Locality

We find in a Republican contemporary a letter in regard to the nomination of Supreme Judge, which starts out with this assertion:—"It seems to be very generally conceded that the central portion of the State is entitled to the Union nomination for Supreme Judge."

OUR STATE CONVENTION.—We see that the State Central Committee of the Republican party have agreed to call the Convention on the 26th of June at Williamsport. At this Convention a candidate for the Judgeship of the Supreme Court of the State, now held by Judge Woodward, will be nominated.

BRITISH MINISTRY.—It would seem, from the unsatisfactory despatch by the cable, that the Derby Government will be saved by "a split in the opposition."

THE OPERA.—Madame Parepa-Rosa gained another marked triumph in "Norma" last evening. Her success was the more palpable from the fact that we have seen all the great lyric artists in the role.

In truth, we have not heard the solo so well sung in years, and the impressive acting of the artist during the action of the drama almost electrified the audience. It was honored with one of the most tumultuous encores we have ever heard in the Academy, and the furore it created was abundantly deserved.

DR. WISHART.

WHAT IS DYSPEPSIA? DYSPEPSIA HAS THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS: 1st. A constant pain or weakness in the pit of the stomach—Which is caused by a permanent contraction of the stomach upon the undigested food. It generally begins immediately or a short time after eating, is often very severe and obstinate.

2d. Flatulence and Acidity.—These symptoms arise from the indigestion of food, which ferments instead of digesting.

3d. Costiveness and Loss of Appetite.—These symptoms are the effects of the unnatural condition of food in the stomach, and the want of a pure bile and of juice, and an indigestion and positive inability to perform the offices of life.

4th. Gloom and Depression of Spirits.—This state arises from the enjoyment of life, and is caused by the impure blood furnished by imperfect digestion. In this stage of the disease many persons commit suicide. There is a constant foreboding of evil, and an indifference and positive inability to perform the offices of life.

5th. Diarrhoea.—After being at first costive, the sufferer is afflicted with diarrhoea, which is owing to a diseased condition of the bowels, produced by the undigested food, which is uncontracted in the same condition as when eaten, and of course gives no strength to the system.

6th. Pains in all Parts of the System.—Arise from the action of impure blood upon the nerves. They are felt in the head, sides, and breast, and in the extremities. There is a constant feeling of numbness in the throat, with a sense of choking or suffocation; the mouth is often clammy, with a bad taste and a furrowed tongue.

7th. Consumptive Symptoms and Palpitation of the Heart.—Many persons pronounced as having the disease, die of consumption, but Dyspepsia, the lung and heart disease being only symptoms.

8th. Cough.—This is a very frequent symptom of Dyspepsia, and is always very often into confirmed Consumption.

9th. Want of Sleep.—A very distressing symptom, resulting from mental derangements.

10th. Symptoms of External Relation.—The patient is affected with cold, chills, and heat, and is owing to unnatural action of acids, and the skin is often affected by eruptions and tetter. The economy dyspeptic avoids society as much as possible.

11th. Vomiting.—A frequent and distressing symptom. It relieves the pain, but evacuates and wears out the patient.

12th. Dimness, dimness of vision, headache, and staggering on walking.—These are very alarming symptoms, which are speedily removed by our medicines; but if neglected are quickly followed by numbness and sudden death.

13th. It is impossible for us to give all the symptoms of Dyspepsia in so small a space, but the above are considered sufficient; if we add that the patient loses his memory and regard to surrounding objects, and frequently becomes morose and sour in disposition. We should say, however, that pains in the joints and stiffness of the limbs, which go by the name of rheumatism and neuralgia, are produced by Dyspepsia. Also, a hardness of the muscles of the abdomen, which becomes contracted and hard; and in some cases the belly sinks, instead of being gently prominent.

N. B.—Perhaps we have not said enough of that strongest symptom of Dyspepsia, melancholy. We have examined hundreds of cases of Dyspepsia, who were so much affected in their minds that they constantly forbore loss of their reason, which unfitted them for business of any kind, and many of them have been patients of the Insane Asylum, who are now permanently cured by our medicine.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent yearly, and hundreds of thousands of the best men and women of America linger in pain and die, and fill a premature grave, with that awful disease, Dyspepsia. They try this physician and that physician, but alas! no relief, no cure; and the next we hear of them they have gone "to that bourne from whence no traveller returns."

Out of the thousands of cases of Dyspepsia that have used Dr. Wishart's Great American Dyspepsia Pills and Pine Tree Cordial, not one of them has failed of a perfect cure. We warrant a perfect cure in every case, no matter how long it has stood. Sold by all the druggists everywhere, and at Dr. Wishart's Office, No. 10 N. Second street, Philadelphia, Pa. All examinations and consultations free of charge. Send for a circular. Price of Pills, One Dollar per box. Sent by mail, free of charge, on receipt of money.

If you are not sick, send this circular to your friend that is sick, and God will bless you.

DR. L. Q. C. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL. A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.

PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL. It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of the tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained.

It is the only safe and reliable remedy which has ever been prepared from the juice of the Pine Tree.

It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite. It strengthens the debilitated system. It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds on the lungs.

It dissolves the mucus or phlegm which stops the air passages of the lungs. Its healing principle acts upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and subduing inflammation.

It is the result of years of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted with the positive assurance of its power to cure, if the patient has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure.

CAUTION. Whereas, Base and designing men, regardless of the lives of the sick, and with a view solely to their own pockets, are making and vending a spurious article worse than useless—representing it as my Pine Tree Cordial, copying, in some cases, my labels and bottles, with slight variations to protect them from the law, the subscriber has been induced as a protection to the public, to publish a fac-simile of his bottles as last patented by the United States Government; and hereby cautions all persons who value their health and life against purchasing any of the many preparations offered for sale as Pine Tree Cordial, unless my name and a Pine Tree is blown on the bottle; all others being a wicked imposition to deceive the suffering and fleece them of their money, regardless of consequences.

The genuine Pine Tree Tar Cordial is made by a process and of ingredients known only to myself, which secret has never been divulged; and any and all persons claiming to make my Pine Tree Tar Cordial are the vile impostors.
